As we are winding up another year here in Africa, I am reminded of the importance of the power of prayer and how it has effected us over this year. Countless been in a difficult situation but I had no doubt that my "covering" was there and the Lord would sustain me. In part, this is the power of pray and why it is so ir continue to be for our last two flights before returning to the USA in early December for a break.

Flight 1: "Inhambane Conference"

Our departure will be at 11am Thursday the 19th of November from Pemba to Nampula with Iris founders, Rolland and Heidi Baker. Upon arrival at Nampula series of meetings with an overnight there as we hook up with another couple who will be part of this conference.

At 9:30 am Friday we will depart from Nampula with four pax for a three and a half hour flight to Beira where we will refuel and then depart for Inhambane, anc and 58 minutes to the South arriving at 4:30 pm.

On Sunday the 22nd, after a two day conference, we will return to Beira. I will refuel and then we will leave the airplane to travel by car for about an hour west Dondo base. There will be a series of meetings in Dondo where we will have one last overnight.

Monday the 23rd. After a full morning schedule we head for the airport departing Beira at 12 noon, arriving Pemba at 4:30 pm.

The 24th and 25th I will be cleaning up last minute items and get the airplane ready for the long trip to South Africa.

Flight #2, on the 26th Marian and I depart Pemba at 5 am for Nelspruit, South Africa. And, finally, on December 3rd we depart Jo'berg for the USA.

I have been asked to write this so you will know how to pray. Prayer is the most POWERFUL weapon we have, use it often.....because it works.

After the Inhambane Conference I will send out another pilot's report. Thank you for being there. Thank you for your prayers, with out them we would not be i

GOD IS AWESOME Joe
